3. No, it's never too late to start revising! The first thing I would do is to draw up a revision timetable. Look at all the subjects you have to do, and work out when you are going to work on each one. It's a good idea to change the order of the subjects in your timetable for each day. Try doing a little English, followed by some Maths, then Biology, and so on. This way, by changing the focus of your revision, you keep your mind fresh.

When revising for exams, it's better to

- A) follow the same order of subjects every day.
- B) revise English before any other subjects.
- C) follow different order of subjects every day.
- D) focus on only one subject each day.
